

The "Do Not Call" act has reduced the amount of calls I receive by 90%. This is a great thing because after a long day at work the last thing I want to do is listen to someone attempting to sell something to me.